

Peace Parley
Enters Final
Phase; Agree
On Preamble

Paris, Oct. 6 (P)—The Peace conference entered its final phase of treaty-writing late today with the adoption of the preamble to the Italian settlement.

Yugoslav abstained in the voting on the preamble, though the preamble text had been adopted unanimously in commission.

Articles One and Two were passed quickly and unanimously.

Molotov Presides

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who assailed the Italian treaty draft plan for the projected free state of Trieste as an "undemocratic" means of keeping that strategic Adriatic area under British-American control in an address to the delegates this morning, presided as chairman.

Molotov opened the balloting after calling on the spokesman of the Italian political commission, A. D. McIntosh of New Zealand, to present his report.

The conference secretary-general, Jacques Fougues Duparc, explained the voting rules for the final decisions.

Molotov then put the treaty preamble to the conference.

To Vote On Treaty

Speaking for the Soviet union in a peace conference plenary session, Molotov declared that the statute adopted by the parley's Italian political and territorial commission for governing the free state lodged "absolute power" in a foreign governor and left the city's population "disenfranchised" under foreign troops.

"This means Trieste is not an international free territory, but a semi-enemy supervised territory under control of the Anglo-American forces," Molotov declared.

Voting by the 21-nation conference on the Italian treaty draft was scheduled to begin at 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST), with a night session also scheduled.

Making his first pronouncement since his return from Moscow, Molotov demanded that the conference transfer power in Trieste to a government elected by the popular assembly similar to the prewar government in Danzig.

Price Control
Backers May Change Views

Washington, Oct. 9 (P)—One of OPA's staunchest champions in last summer's Senate battle said he is giving "serious consideration" to junking all price controls today as President Truman pressed ahead with his personal survey of the meat shortage.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), who lost a fight last June for renewal of the price control act without amendments, declared in a statement:

"If price control is getting back like prohibition in its last days so that public opinion is not going to support effective price control and the Congress is not going to support it, we might just as well not try to have it."

Debate Sizzles

As White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that President Truman is "getting reports every day" on the situation, these others joined in the sizzling debate over steaks and chops:

Senator Mead (D-N.Y.), in a statement after conferring with White House, OPA and Agriculture Department officials: "I am extremely hopeful that an emergency decision will be forthcoming very shortly which will help to relieve the meat shortage."

Marion E. Martin, assistant Republican national chairman, in a statement issued through GOP headquarters: "The Democrats' contention that they are not responsible is an insult to the intelligence of American women who are now standing in lines all over the country trying to buy meats, sugar, soap and other household necessities."

The Justice Department reported it is continuing its investigation of the meat industry.

'Topcoat Weather'
For Boston Game

Boston Oct. 9 (P)—Boston greeted its first World Series day in 28 years this morning with top-coat weather.

Rain, forecast for tonight, was expected to hold off however until the Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals had completed their third game in baseball's blue-ribbon classic.

A bright sun brought out the blue-sky through a thin haze, and the temperature was 48 degrees at 9 a. m. (EST), with slight chance that it would get much warmer.

Government meteorologists predicted "thickening cloudiness and continuing cool" weather during the day. A light, but chilling, northeast wind fanned the city.

Weather Forecast

Rain tonight and most of Thursday. Continued cool.

PRICE THREE CENTS

WILL REPAIR
AND REPAINT
P. O. BUILDING

General repair work at the Gettysburg postoffice will begin in the very near future, postmaster Lawrence E. Oyer announced today, with the Thierault Constructing company of Philadelphia having been given the contract to do the work.

The roof, made of small overlapping sections of tin in 1913 when the building was constructed, is going to get its first general overhauling since that time. On the schedule of work for the Thierault company is repairing of all cracks, holes and other damages and defects of the roof. Then they are to put down a heavy coat of asphalt-asbestos fibre roof coating to the roof and flashings.

Also on the contract is the repointing of the southwest corner of the building where leaves from the trees have caused some deterioration in the stone and masonry.

On the inside the construction company will start in the basement and clean, paint with lead and oil paint everything that had been painted before and continue on that work of cleaning, repairing and repainting nearly everything on the entire first and second floors. Only room to be missed in the repainting job will be the map room on the second floor where the photographic and blueprinting equipment of the National park office is placed.

All of the woodwork which was stained and grained when the postoffice was built will be varnished. The only woodwork not to be painted or varnished will be the floors. The postoffice uses oil on the wooden floors and that practice will be continued.

RAIN TO MAR
METEOR SHOW

Local residents, waiting for the comet Giacobini-Zinner to begin its scheduled shedding of millions of meteors this evening, recalled today the 800-pound meteor that crashed into the ground near Two Taverns sometime apparently before the early settlers came to these parts.

The meteor was found in 1887 on the John Young farm when Jacob Snyder was digging to plant a fruit tree and found in the hole a "stubborn hard stone." D. C. Rudisill, of Two Taverns, decided the stone was a meteor and Gettysburg college scientists finding nickel in combination with iron confirmed the identity.

One of the first uses of the meteor came about when a portion hacked off the fused metal "rock" was made into a corn husker, which later was lost.

Parts of the meteor later were sent to various museums, with two parts of it at one time to be seen in the Museum of Natural History in Vienna.

The forecast of rain tonight made it unlikely that the display in the skies tonight can be seen here.

TUESDAY NIGHT

The board of directors of the Soroptimist club met at Hotel Eberhart Tuesday night, followed by the monthly business meeting of the club with Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, presiding. The appointment of Miss Kathryn Oiler as corresponding secretary was announced, filling the term of Mrs. Nevin Grieb, who recently resigned to pursue a course of study in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Anne Bachensky, rummage sale chairman, reported that a sale is scheduled for October 19 with the place to be announced later. She also reported for the social activities committee that the next function of the club will be a costume dinner October 22 at the home of Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, with prizes for various costumes.

Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, publicity chairman, reported that on Monday, November 25, the club will observe its ninth birthday anniversary, with a "Friendship" dinner, to which members of the other service clubs of the town and county will be invited.

Mrs. Clyde Daley, post-war activities chairman, announced that evening foodstuffs had been donated by members to send one box to Norway and that the project will be continued until enough had been received to complete the second box. Members are requested to leave their packages of concentrated foods at the office of Mrs. George Eberhart.

Gifts To New Clubs

Mrs. Dorothy Robertson was appointed to the welfare committee to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Grieb's resignation. Mrs. Ziegler, membership chairman, stated that a list of new members is being considered and will be submitted to the club in the near future. Members contributed 25 cents each to the 1946 Powerful Pennies fund. The American Federation is continuing its Founders Week policy of collecting from each Soroptimist one penny per year of Federation life. Established in 1943, this plan led to the creation of the Noel Fund which is subject to expenditure under the guidance of the European Federation and the liaison secretary of the Soroptimist International Association. To date the British Federation has raised $50,000 and the American Federation $27,000 and these funds are being used to aid European Soroptimists and the rehabilitation of their clubs.

2-DAY SCHOOL
OPENS FRIDAY
FOR 'AG' MEN

The first session of a two-day school of instruction on soil conservation practices for the agriculture teachers in Adams county schools will take place Friday.

The "ag" teachers will meet at the court house here Friday morning at 8:30 and go to the farm of Alton H. Good, Harrisburg road near Twin Bridges.

The "field day" will be spent in laying out strips, studying land practices, taking soil samples, studying drainage and keeping data on the observations and practices.

Classroom Session

This data will be studied in a classroom session to be held Saturday in the Gettysburg high school. Both sessions will be in charge of Francis T. Bowne, district conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Pittsburgh.

Those expected to attend will include, in addition to the five county "ag" teachers, Richard C. Lighter, Adams-Franklin supervisor of vocational agriculture classes, and Joseph Scott and Stanley Musselman, teachers of the two veterans' agriculture training classes.

They will have dinner at noon Friday at Wishard's restaurant, near Heidlersburg.

The two-day school was originally planned to open on August 14, but was postponed because of the "Welcome Home" celebration for Adams county veterans here on that date.

35 Guides Guests

Thirty-five Gettysburg battlefield guides were entertained Tuesday evening at a dinner held in their honor by Harvey Warner at the Peace Light Inn.

The entertainment included music by a group of musicians headed by Bill Jones, local orchestra leader, and a magic performance by H. Franklin Gienger, assistant manager of the local G. C. Murphy company store.

The guides today formally extended to Warner their appreciation for the "delicious dinner and outstanding entertainment" provided them.

BULLETINS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 9 (P)—The Duquesne Light company reported to-day that an unattended automatic sub-station serving a populous residential area had been "sabotaged," plunging the district into a temporary blackout on the 16th day of a power strike.

A company spokesman said the Brentwood sub-station, where 66,000-volt current is reduced to 4,000 volts for residential use, was shut down by a break which he called without qualification an "act of sabotage."

Nanking, Oct. 9 (P)—General Marshall, fighting for a resumption of negotiations to end China's intensifying civil war, flew to Shanghai today for a personal conference with Gen. Chou En-lai, the Communist negotiator who yesterday rejected Chiang Kai-shek's latest proposal for a 10-day truce in the Government's Kalgan offensive to permit peace talks.

Airmail Volume
On Increase Here

Air mail has increased at the local post office by about five per cent since the installation of the new five-cent rate the beginning of the month, it was disclosed today.

Letters now go for five cents by airmail to all parts of the U. S. and its possessions, including Alaska, Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the Canal zone. The nickel rate also applies to letters to men or women connected with the armed forces who have APO or FPO mailing addresses.

While the rate is a drop of three cents per ounce on all domestic air-mail and a drop of seven cents per ounce on airmail to men and women in the services overseas, it does not apply to one former U. S. post-session.

Those writing to a civilian in the Philippines prior to July 4 could send an airmail letter to him for eight cents. Now that the Philippines have become an independent country, the post office has jumped the price to 50 cents per half ounce for all letters going there.

REV. MYERS IS SPEAKER FOR PAST GRANDS

"Christ is the solution of all problems, national and international," the Rev. Harold J. Myers, West Middle street, declared Tuesday night in stating that "while the greatest threat to peace today is communism, the only solution to communism and the only way to combat it is a revival of Christianity."

Speaking at the 158th meeting of the Adams County Past Grands' association of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in the Gettys lodge rooms on Chambersburg street, the pastor of the local Four Square Gospel church asserted: "There can be no real and lasting peace without consulting the true God." The conference of San Francisco from which the United Nations organization grew was a "failure," he declared, "because they did not seek God's aid openly."

Seventy-three members and guests attended the session which opened with the singing of "America" and an invocation by the Rev. Mr. Myers. J. Frank Dougherty of the Gettys lodge delivered the address of welcome and W. D. Sheely of Pennsylvania Lodge No. 613, Littlestown, made the response.

SEEK RECRUITS FOR QUOTA FOR OCTOBER HERE

"Wanted, seven males, must be in good health, over 17, intelligent, patriotic, interested. Can be given suitable employment in almost any field of endeavor. Apply Recruiting office."

That's the kind of advertisement Sgt. Walter Stubbs, local recruiting officer, is convinced will have to run if he is to obtain enough men to fill his quota for October. And he is afraid the ad will have to be run in other than Adams county papers.

The sergeant today confessed he had about run out of men in the county. With over 70 signed and delivered to the army since June he has secured nearly every eligible man in the county, he believes.

"Now," he says, "they're coming in to see me at the age of 15 and 16 to see about joining when they're 17. That is fine and I like to meet the youths, but it doesn't fill the quota for this month."

A total of 42 men from the county entered the service in September.

Negroes May Join

However there are two possibilities, says the sergeant. The embargo against accepting Negro enlistments has been lifted and colored men who have not seen service before can join the army if they can meet the qualifications and there are still jobs for the Negro vet who would like to go back into service.

On the other hand the army has announced that some provisions of the GI Bill of Rights have been extended until "the end of the war and six months." But the extension pays off only on actual service, so that a man signing up for 18 months would get only credit for six months under the bill if the duration ends tomorrow.

So those who would like to get a college education or go to a trade school at government expense can still do so by joining the army and getting the advantages that accrue from such service. While the GI bill expired October 5, he pointed out, the new regulations by which the serviceman gets credit for 30 months for an 18-month enlistment, and other similar benefits, have been arranged to succeed the bill.

The dispatcher at the Greyhound terminal here said the roadway was slippery, causing the bus to skid. It was driven by Sidney Marmon, Jr., Fall Church, Va. No one was injured.

Damage to the porch at the Scott home was estimated at $150. The bus sustained only minor damage of $10. The left rear corner of the bus was dented.

BRITAIN NOT YET 'OUT' OF MEDITERRANEAN

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Britain's "tentative" plan for consolidating her Middle Eastern defenses far south of the present Egypt-Palestine-Transjordan-Liban lines does not imply that the Lion is through ranging the Mediterranean's shores.

It is true that the British, often accused of holding these ancient lands in durance vile, are rearranging their Suez defenses in an effort to clear their skirts in Egypt and elsewhere. But talk of moving key administrative and supply bases to Kenya and Tanganyika mean establishment of defenses in depth, not withdrawal. And the big implication is that Africa will be developed as a primary base of supply.

Began In 1942

The British military program in East Africa area actually began in 1942 after the Japanese made a pass at Ceylon which did considerable damage and thoroughly frightened its defenders, and when Rommel was knocking at the gates of Alexandria and Cairo. East Africa suddenly became a "rear area" for Empire forces in both the Near and Far East. Alexandria was abandoned for the time-being. Haifa and Mombasa became important points of British naval concentration. First class air installations were strung out over Kenya and Tanganyika, the latter a former German territory under British mandate, to tie in with the American-developed supply system to West Africa, Khartoum and Egypt.

Simultaneously with these military moves the British Foreign Office was working on its plan of development for Uganda, Kenya, the Sudan and Africa generally, a plan which now fits well into the picture of great new administrative and supply bases.

Whether Britain is merely announcing something she began doing the war, or whether she is accepting a new conception of defense in an age of atomic and aerial weapons, there is one fixed point about which the rest revolves. She is not making, nor permitting herself to be forced into, any change which opens a threat to her oil holdings in the Middle East. Those wells, refineries and pipelines are as vital to her as her navy, which depends upon them. No matter what political considerations intervene, only overwhelming force will ever separate her from them.

Democrats Blamed For Confusion, Bungling

Beaver Falls, Pa., Oct. 9 (P)—Governor Edward Martin, Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate, declared last night that "all you get out of Washington is more confusion, more bungling, and a bigger debt."

Addressing a GOP campaign rally, Martin said that in Washington is a group "working day and night to change the America we know to a socialistic pattern of government."

He said that in Pennsylvania "this conspiracy has the backing of the Communistic PAC. It is attempting to undermine patriotic labor unions but it will not succeed if Americans are awake to the danger."

Asserting "the present Democratic leadership in Pennsylvania has joined forces with the PAC," Martin said, "it will go down to defeat under a flood of patriotic protest ballots."

AROUND - WORLD B-29 FLIGHTS HANG ON BIG 'IF'

Washington, Oct. 9 (P)—Final government approval of a projected globe circling flight by as many as two dozen B-29 Superfortresses hung today on a diplomatic "if."

Officials predicted privately that the state department probably will approve the Army Air Forces plans for the flight—if some way can be found to minimize the venture as a type of "big stick" diplomacy. The problem confronting the State department is that whatever may be the intentions behind the project, diplomats here and in foreign offices around the world appear certain to read into it various implications.

Sources of Concern
This is a source of concern to American officials who contend that United States relations with Russia—although based at present on Secretary of State Byrnes' policy of "firmness"—must be kept in balance. They particularly do not want to present any evidence of sword-rattling or other gestures which might upset world affairs at a particularly difficult juncture.

The round-the-world flight plan was announced to a news conference late yesterday by Undersecretary of War W. Stuart Symington.

He said the flight would go by way of Cairo, India and the Pacific, would include between eight and 24 of the Army's heaviest regular service bombers and definitely would be made in the next few weeks "if the state department approves."

May Be Up To Truman
At the state department, officials promptly let it be known that they had only a vague foreknowledge of Symington's announcement. They added they would make no decision before receiving the formal proposal. Some expected the whole matter might have to go before President Truman. Symington made two statements to newsmen implying possible diplomatic significance in the project. He said "this flight will compare with round-the-world voyages made in earlier days by the American fleet." He also declared that the "airforces must be considered of primary importance" in carrying out United States national policies.

Mrs. Wilmer E. Bream gave a talk on her classification of a farmer. She told of 32 years of general farming at Biglerville, R. D., with 24 of those years spent in the dairy business. Following the meeting Mrs. Ziegler and Mrs. Eberhart entertained in the latter's apartment in the hotel, in celebration of the birthday and wedding anniversary of Mrs. Irving Bierer and the wedding anniversary of Mrs. Buehler.

WOMAN SCORER TALLIES GAMES

Emmitsburg's baseball team proved itself the best in the Adams County Baseball league this year and may prove to be the best in the Pennsylvania loop, but team officials are convinced the team has also one other "best" to its credit.

That "best" is the team scorekeeper.

The scorekeeper is a girl. Mrs. Harold Hoke, the former Mary Higbee, and scorekeeper for the Emmitsburg team for the past several years, is said by the team officials to be "not only the equal of, but better than most other scorekeepers in the leagues."

Asked how she became scorekeeper for the team Mrs. Hoke confessed that it was practically accidental.

"They had no scorekeeper and asked me if I would do it, so I read the directions in the front of the book and have enjoyed doing the job ever since," she says.

Teacher of physical education at the high school, she finds baseball an exciting sport and hopes to keep on being scorekeeper for a long, long time.

BULLETS NEXT MEET LEOPARDS THIS SATURDAY

Two teams, both seeking to rebound after setbacks, will clash Saturday afternoon at Easton when the Gettysburg and Lafayette college football squads lock horns for the 12th time in a series begun in 1894.

The Leopards have won 10 decisions in the 11 previous games, the lone Bullets victory being a 2-0 decision gained in 1936. Lafayette has always proven a tough customer for the Leopards and during the 1 games the Leopards managed to score but two touchdowns against them, one in 1940 when they lost 5-6 and one in 1941 when the Leopards won 17-6.

Successive defeats at the hands of Muhlenberg and Penn will not make the Leopards any easier for the Leopards.

Last Saturday's reverse at the hands of Western Maryland should also put the Leopards in the proper frame of mind to go all-out in an effort to swing back into the win column.

Gelbert Scouts Team
Undoubtedly the Leopards are in for some stiff drills this week. The performance of the team against the Terrors was ragged throughout and if improvement is to be made plenty of work will have to be done this week.

Charley Gelbert, former assistant coach at Gettysburg college, and now assistant backfield coach at Lafayette, scouted the Leopards against Lehigh and Western Maryland. The sober look on his face following the Lehigh tilt changed to smiles after last Saturday's game.

General admission tickets at $1.20 for Saturday's tilt are now on sale at the college gymnasium and at the Britcher and Bender drug store. Reserved seats for the Gettysburg-Delaware contest here October 19 are now on sale at the same places for $1.50.

BRECHEN SAYS HAL IS TOPS

Boston, Oct. 9 (AP)—Harry Brechen, who riveted down his own claim to left-handed pitching fame when he brought the St. Louis Cardinals back into World Series contention, today doffed his hat to Hal Newhouse of Detroit as the "outstanding" southpaw in baseball.

Looking over the modern left-handed field, "The Cat" modestly had this to say:
"You can't take those victories away from Newhouse. He's out-standing today. He even looked great back in the days when he was coming up at Beaumont, Texas."

No club has a pair of southpaws equal to Brechen and Howie Pollet, and Brechen has great admiration for his team-mate.

"He has awfully good control, and he's smart. He doesn't try to overpower batters."

No Lack of Control
"I think all this stuff about left-handers being wild is a lot of foolishness. They have as good control as right-handers."

Brechen certainly lacked no control in taming the Red Sox 3 to 0 on four hits. He walked one man intentionally, and Rudy York twice after working on him with exquisite care.

Brechen is also of the opinion that shifting lineups around depending on whether the pitcher is right or left-handed is out moded. Most baseball men feel that a left-handed hitter is not so effective against a left-handed pitcher, and a right-handed batter against a right-handed.

"It never seems to make much difference to me," said Brechen, but he tamed left-handed hitter Ted Williams so effectively that there might seem to be more to the theory than he would admit.

Lists Other Greats
Brechen's admiration of Newhouse and Pollet did not blind him to the merits of other present day southpaws.

"There's Johnny Schmitz of the Cubs, Dave Kist of the Giants, Mickey Harris of the Red Sox (the man Brechen defeated), and Johnny Vandermeer of Cincinnati—all have good stuff."

Brechen is slender and quick moving. His great fielding ability won him the nick-name of "The Cat." He pounces on every infield possibility.

"I just like fielding," he explained. He likes pitching, too.

Steelers Sign Ernie Bonelli

Pittsburgh, Oct. 9 (AP)—Ernie Bonelli, one time backfield star at Pitt, has signed up to play again under his first college mentor, Dr. Jock Sutherland, now coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National football league.

Bonelli played two seasons, split by army service, with the Chicago Cardinals. He was released at the beginning of this season. To make room for the newcomer, the Steelers released Jim Reynolds, halfback recruit who had been on the roster two weeks.

Molasses is shipped by tanker, and is heated a day or two before the ship reaches port to facilitate its discharge.

Babe Busts Par On Tourney Eve

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 9 (AP)—With her game in par-busting form, Mrs. George (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias of Denver meets Mrs. John Mays of Ft. Worth today in the second round of the 12th annual Texas women's open golf tournament.

The national amateur champion, seeking her sixth tournament title this year, has already given the 6,463-yard Colonial Country club course's par 75 two pastings. She turned in a 71 Monday to take medalist honors and yesterday toured the back nine in 33, four under par 37, to win her first round match from Mrs. Harold Weilback, San Antonio, Tex., 5 and 4.

Mrs. Mays, who has frequently reached the finals of the city tournament but never won it nor played in any major tournaments, yesterday defeated Mrs. George Noble of Dallas, Tex., 3 and 2.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Boston, Oct. 9 (AP)—They're talking about the weather in Boston even more than they're talking about Ted Williams' failure to hit through the Cards' lopsided defense—and that requires a lot of talk. . . . The weather man has predicted that it will be cloudy and cool today—"pretty miserable baseball weather"—but that rain would hold off until after the third World Series game. Rain, at this time of year in New England, usually means a north-easter that keeps bringing in water by the bucketful for about three days. . . . The only one in favor of that is a local writer, who, like many others of the clan, is feuding with Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey.

"Much as I'd like to have it over," he explained, "it would be worth having it rain just to make that guy feed the mob at press headquarters for four or five days."

FENWAY FOOLISHNESS

One red-hot rumor here is that Red Rolfe, an old Penacook, N. H., boy, will be the Yankees' next manager although even those who say they know have a hard time seeing the mild-mannered Red getting along with boisterous Larry MacPhail. . . . Another is that Sam Breadon will dispose of a couple of his pennant-winning Cards during the winter and the buyer will be Lou Perini, who needs only to strengthen a couple of spots to make his Braves into flag contenders. . . . Philadelphia scribbles are so high on the Penn football team that they figure "maybe Army can stop the Quakers." . . . Leo Durocher is staying at the same hotel as three National league umpires—which shows you how tough it is to get a room in town.

SHEAR NONSENSE

The first guy in line at the bleachers today to Fenway Park, Grover C. Gilmore, arrived Monday night, 38 hours before the starting time of today's game. . . . The third to arrive was a barber, who took one look at Gilmore and then sent to a nearby drugstore for a razor and soap so he could get to work on Gilmore.

CLEANING THE CUFF

The Yale football team has been talking about Saturday's Columbia game ever since spring practice, on the theory that it should have a good season if it can get past the Lions. To this Lou Little asks: "Why don't they get a schedule?" . . . The Montreal Royals' players collected about $33,000 from the International league playoffs and the Junior World Series. . . . Saturday's Michigan-Army grid game will draw 85,939 fans—the tickets are all sold—which likely will be the season's biggest crowd but will fall some 500 short of the 1943 Michigan-Notre Dame attendance. . . . Harvard has borrowed Paul Governali from the football Yanks to work with the scrubs testing the varsity's pass defense. That will really scrub them clean.

Girl Driver Wins First Appearance

Westbury, N. Y., Oct. 9 (AP)—Aleah Nichols, 19, daughter of Herman Nichols of Indiana, Pa., won the third harness race at Roosevelt racetrack last night in her first appearance as a sulky driver behind the brown mare Katrina Volo.

Katrina Volo finished three lengths ahead of General Patton after getting away first from the starting gate and maintaining her lead without difficulty throughout the six and one-half furlong pace.

Her father, driving Doctor Guy, his own chestnut gelding, in the fourth race, finished third behind Charming Sister and Cheerful Hanover.

The feature Harvester classified pace of 1 1-16 miles was won by Dewey Abbe, owned by O. E. Spurr, Cambridge, N. Y., and driven by Frank Church. Dewey Abbe came

DYER DEFENSE HAS WILLIAMS ON HOT SPOT

By JACK HAND

Boston, Oct. 9 (AP)—Ted Williams' failure to foil the "Dyer shift" with a third base bunt has put the Red Sox slugger on the baseball hot seat today as Boston prepares for its first World Series game since 1918 against the conniving St. Louis Cardinals.

All even in their first two games at Sportman's park, the American league's runaway champs open at home this afternoon with their chief long distance power threat upset by the Cards' infield alignment.

Big Ted, the slim beanpole who missed the batting and home run titles in his own league, continues to challenge the solid right field defense.

Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis team has tactically admitted his fear of Williams' power by changing third baseman Whitey Kurowski into a second sacker every time Ted comes to bat, moving second baseman Red Schoendienst to a normal first base and placing Stan Musial on the right field foul line.

Not Natural

Ted said he tried to dump one down toward third in Monday's game and attempted to hit to left but was unable to carry out his plan because of Harry Brechen's inside pitching.

The Cards figure that every time Williams does try to hit to left instead of doing what comes naturally, they will have him pressing so hard he won't be of much use to the Sox.

While the fans, writers and ball players gossiped about the Williams affair, the weatherman cast a disturbing shadow over the Fenway park opener with his prediction that it would be cloudy and cool with temperatures in the 50's.

As the two clubs arrived from St. Louis last night by separate special trains they were greeted by a chilling wind that formed quite a contrast to the blistering heat that had sent the thermometer into the 80's both days at Sportsman's park.

Ticket quotations by scalpers ranged from $75 to $100 per pair and there was the usual early bleacher line, equipped with folding chairs and blankets, shivering through an all-night vigil for first chance on the few thousand "rush" seats.

Ferriss To Pitch

Back home at Fenway where they had won 61 and lost only 16 in breezing to the pennant by 12 games, the Sox were confident they would be able to uphold the proud Boston tradition of never losing a series. Of six flag winners, five wound up as world champions and the other didn't have a chance since there was no series in 1904.

Dave (Boo) Ferriss, the terrific 25-game winning sophomore sensation was set to make his series debut by opposing Murry Dickson of the Cards, a pair of right-handers in a series that had been dominated by southpaws in its early stages. It was surprising to many that Manager Joe Cronin had held out his top winner as long as the third game.

Dickson throws a little of everything in the pitching book. His last one, backed by good control, is his ace.

Fenway's beckoning left field wall 315 feet away is expected to restore the home run to the Red Sox attack, particularly as a target for big Rudy York whose 10th inning smash broke up the opener. However, it also should be a help to Kurowski of the Cards.

Bleeker Decides To Stay In Game

Philadelphia, Oct. 9 (AP)—Halfback Mel Bleeker was back in the Philadelphia Eagles' lineup today after abandoning his decision to quit football.

Coach Greasy Neale said the former Southern California back who piled up one of his seven touchdowns in 1944 on a 75-yard pass play may get into action Sunday for the first time this season when the Eagles tackle the Green Bay Packers. He played only four games last year due to injuries.

Guards Lack Speed

At the guards Coach Opekan has weight and height in Jim McDermott of Belle Harbor, L. I., and St. John's Prep; Bill Maguire of Wilmington, Del., a guard on Wally's championship basketball team of two years ago, and Al Kube of Milmont Park, Pa. At the moment, however, the great difficulty at guard is lack of speed. Most of the boys are still knotted up from military service and are having a great deal of trouble in untangling themselves.

Only at center does the Mount team find itself without sufficient weight. Joe McGlynn of Philadelphia, who played some bruising football at the Mount with the Navy V-12, is tough and capable, but he packs only 170 pounds. Tom Van Kirk, also of Philly matches McGlynn in both weight and fight. John Raiche of Lynn, Mass., brings 195 pounds to the pivot post if he can succeed in getting himself into top form.

Of the 20 backs working for posts on the Mount eleven Ralph De Stefani of Bridgewater, N. Y., a Dartmouth transfer has shown fine running form thus far in practice. Dick Golden, a 175 pounder from Wharton, N. J., promises to take care of the punting, while Corny White, a chunky 175 pounder from West Chester, Pa., can toss and run in fine form. Phil Barrett, a transfer from Middlebury College where he played on the varsity has shown up well in practice, and his 190 pounds may be just the thing to round out the Mount backfield.

Barrett hails from Troy, N. Y. In addition George Boyle, a speedy seat back from the Lansford, Pa., championship high school team may see a lot of service.

Like To Play

Coach Opekan is philosophical about the prospects of the Mount team despite interference from the class schedule and the study hours. The loss of Pete Grandell, his only experienced quarterback, who withdrew from football because of the time demands of his classes, was a hard blow. It's hard, too, to look around the campus and watch fine players like Red Boyle, a Mount monogram winner and a fine triple threat back, and Bob Kripaitis, a fine end, pass up football. "At any rate," said Wally, "the condition of sports here is a healthy one. The game is back in the hands of the boys who play it for the sheer love of playing. All our men are playing football because they like the game; we haven't one scholarship man on the club."

Triple Threat Cousins To Face Maroons

Robert A. "Quack" Geesaman, fullback, and his cousin Robert "Jay" Geesaman, right halfback, triple threat stars of the Waynesboro high school football team, will be in the lineup when the Golden Tornado meets Coach George Forney's Gettysburg high gridders here Friday evening in a South Penn conference game. Both lads have been playing well for Waynesboro this season and starred against Carlisle last week.

MOUNTAINEERS PRIME FOR 1ST TILT OCT. 19

With what appears on paper, to be one of Mount St. Mary's better football squads, Coach Wally Opekan is losing sleep daily over the circumstances which make it impossible for him to get the team into top shape for the opening game on Echo Field, October 19, with the Bainbridge Commodores.

With the Commodores game only two weeks off, Opekan still does not have a line on the potentialities of all his material. Irregular class schedules and the serious attitude of the students with regard to study hours make it almost impossible to have any sort of satisfactory scrimmaging sessions.

In addition, since most of the men are first year men, Opekan is faced with the task of drumming into them the plays he will use in his single wing. The fact that the players are unacquainted at this late date with the formations makes practice even more difficult.

Team Heavy

This team may well be one of the heaviest the Mountaineers have ever fielded. At the ends three six-footers are in the midst of a real scrap for first-team berths: Harry Scrignoli, 190-pounder from Harrisburg Catholic and the famed Fleet City Navy team, Sam Ayres, 195 pounds, from Salesman high in Wilmington and George Charniga, 190-pounder who played a lot of football for Rahway high in New Jersey. At the moment Charniga is taking light practice sessions because of a sprained ankle.

There is a possibility also that Nino Briscuso, a six-footer from Washington, D. C., and a whale of a baseball pitcher, may come along fast enough to make the battle for the end positions a four cornered affair. One other promising terminal prospect, Bob McCarthy of Troy, N. Y., has been sidelined with a broken blood vessel.

At the tackles the picture is bright, with two lettermen, Captain Red Coffey, 210-pound giant from Jamaica, L. I., and Buck Watto, 200-pounder from Nesquehoning, Pa., adding experience to an otherwise green line. In addition to playing tackle, Coffey is also helping Coach Opekan with the linemen. A newcomer, John Bratina who matches both Coffey and Watto in brawn is pushing both veterans for one of the tackle posts.

Walter Johnson Holding Ground

Washington, Oct. 9 (AP)—Walter Johnson, one-time strikeout ace of the American league, was in "unchanged" condition today at Georgetown hospital after rallying from a week-end relapse.

The 38-year-old former mainstay of the Washington Senators has been in the hospital since April with a brain tumor. He had a sinking spell Sunday but was reported "considerably improved" yesterday and held his ground during the night.

Durocher To Go On Air Sunday

FILCHOCK LEADS GROUND GAINERS

New York, Oct. 9 (AP)—Frank Filchock, the former Indiana university passing wizard on whom the New York Giants were depending for their aerial offensive, ranks no better than 13th among the leading tossers of the National Football league.

But he turns up today at the head of the ground gainers, with 191 yards amassed on 24 carries in two games. Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears tops the passers with 17 completions in 37 attempts for a yardage total of 295, statistics released by the league show.

Filchock, purchased from the Washington Redskins, became the first ball carrier to gain more than a hundred yards in one game when he contributed 108 to the Giants' 208 in their 17-14 triumph over Pittsburgh last Sunday. Seventy of his total came on one jaunt.

Has Scoring Lead

Merle Hapes, Filchock's backfield colleague in the Giants' streamlined offense, has taken over the scoring lead with three touchdowns, giving him a two-point advantage over Ward Cuff, ex-Giant now with the Chicago Cardinals.

Long Jim Benton of Los Angeles, who finished second to Don Hutson in pass receiving a year ago, heads the list of catchers with ten completions for a yardage total of 120.

Bill Dudley, sparking the Jock Sutherland renaissance at Pittsburgh, has an early claim on the league's most valuable player award by earning a place among the leaders in all departments except pass receiving.

YORK PLAYER DIES

Parkside, Pa., Oct. 9 (AP)—Oscar Jones, one-time pitcher for York, Pa., and Wilmington, Del., of the old Tri-State Baseball league, was stricken fatally yesterday while standing in a meat line.

Important Decision In War Department

Washington, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Army Air Forces took over control of research into guided missiles today, thereby ending a two-year dispute within the War Department over the development of such weapons of future warfare.

An order by Secretary of War Patterson placing the Army Ordnance Department in a subordinate role was issued with the avowed purpose of attaining "the most efficient utilization of scientific talent and engineering facilities."

W. Stuart Symington, the War Department's under secretary for air, said in announcing the order "it is possible that there has never been a more important decision in connection with the future of our defense structure." Symington noted it would centralize authority and responsibility and "will save the taxpayers many millions of dollars."

RUSSIANS MAY CLAIM OKINAWA

Washington, Oct. 9 (AP)—A Russian plan to stake claim to the highly important Ryukyu chain of islands between Japan and Formosa—among them blood-drenched Okinawa—is frankly anticipated in American diplomatic quarters.

Highly placed officials told a reporter privately today that the United States will oppose the expected Soviet move on the ground that the islands—if they are to be transferred from Japanese ownership at all—should go to China.

As an alternative to Chinese sovereignty, the United States would be agreeable to placing the islands under a United Nations trusteeship, solely administered by China.

These views stem from the fact that this country has a battle-won interest in the islands, particularly Okinawa as the scene of some of the toughest fighting of the Pacific war.

OPA Rule Affects Many Brand Names

Washington, Oct. 9 (AP)—OPA changed some of its price tag rules Tuesday to end what one official called "chiseling by some retailers."

Involved are many so-called "brand name" items such as clothing, shoes, furniture, rugs and shower curtains. Usually well-advertised and sold on a uniform price basis, the retail price ceiling tag has been placed on them by the manufacturer and producer.

Previously when this ceiling price advanced, OPA allowed the retailer to re-ticket his entire stock at the new higher prices.

This must stop October 14, OPA announced, so that sales are made on a basis of actual cost at the time of shipment—plus the legal profit at that time.

The result may be that some retailers will be offering identical "brand names" at different ceiling prices.

The smokestacks on some modern ships do not really discharge smoke—they are camouflage and enclose such things as dog kennels or ventilation shafts.

Awarded Second Prize: The Gettysburg Fire Company was awarded a $50 prize for having the second best band in line at the parade in Wilkes-Barre on Thursday. The Moconagua band of Moconagua was the organization which accompanied the Gettysburg delegation.

Joins Marine Corps: Philip Woodward, a member of the Junior class at high school, has enlisted in the United States Marine Corps and has been sent to Parris Island, South Carolina.

Motorists Throng Caledonia: A crowd estimated at between 10,000 and 15,000 gathered at Caledonia on Tuesday afternoon to witness the celebration which marked the formal opening of the 113 miles of permanent road which comprise the Harrisburg-Gettysburg - Chambersburg triangle which has come to be known as the finest one-day tour in the east.

Girls from Wilson college served the tourists "hot dogs" and coffee free of charge. The Wilson girls also took part in the colorful pageant that consisted of fourteen episodes, beginning with Indian scouts on horseback, followed by Indians returning from the hunt with their dogs and the carcass of a deer on an Indian drag.

The high powered automobile brought up the rear of the procession. Neither President Harding nor Governor Sproul were present and Lieutenant Governor Beideman was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Students Take Part: Pupils from the High School, the Meade School, High Street building and the Catholic school, all of whom were excused at 10 o'clock by the School Board authorities, lined Chambersburg street. Each one held a small flag with which to greet the long procession of machines.

Forty Boy Scouts were stationed all along the route from the beginning of the concrete on the Harrisburg road to the end of the borough limits out towards Seminary ridge, directing the steady flow of traffic which began long before the parade came through.

The college ROTC, which is to depict scenes of the late war in the pageant at Caledonia left at 10:00 o'clock. They were completely outfitted and carried rifles. Nine large trucks were used for transporting them. The outfit numbered about 160 students. College was closed all day. Major Courtland Nixon and Captain Rudolph were in command.

Kiddies Club Starts: The Kiddie's Club opened its second year in the Red Cross room on East High street with Miss Henrietta Hersh and Miss Amelia Butt in charge. Seventeen pupils reported, among whom are John Brehm, Janet Fissel, Anna Mary Punkhouser, Anna K. Mosser, Betty Swope, Edmund Thomas, Jr., Jeanne Thompson, Catherine Gitt, Mary Pretz, and Charles Shuman, pupils who attended last year. New pupils are: John Deardorff, Virginia Punkhouser, Billy Stock, Virginia Storrick, Bobby Rhodes, Aurelia Codori and Mary Katherine Moticka.

Large Audience Sees Pageant: Before a record-breaking attendance Sunday morning, the Junior classes of St. James Sunday school presented a life-like pageant representing the founding of the Sunday school movement in England in bygone days. The pageant was written by Rev. J. B. Baker, pastor of the church.

After the pageant, the Rev. Harry Daniels, pastor of the Methodist

Today's Talk

ALL TO WIN

To become spiritually strong is to live hopefully. We must conceive the idea that we are "victory born." Then the individual, daily defeats become only the natural setbacks which are the lot of us all. All the forces that have been bequeathed to us, were meant for us to use in an all-out battle — to win!

All life is a struggle, a battle, a problem to be solved, and a thing to face with all the possible cheer and courage that we can muster. We must believe that we are "full of new beginnings," as Don Marquis once wrote. No defeat of mind or spirit is final. There is always a final victory ahead.

Future historians will study the path of General Douglas MacArthur, from Australia to the Philippines and Japan, as one of the wonder military miracles of all time. With scarcely anything at his command for long periods, he strove on, stuck to his plan, had faith, never wavered, and though almost hopelessly outnumbered most of the time, through superb strategy, he so planned that victory finally was his. Never did he doubt that he would win. Nor did those who so loyally stood by him through all the trying and tragic days of delay, and lack of home support.

I have just finished reading a most interesting and inspiring story of the life of the late Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the "New York Times," written by Gerald W. Johnson. It is a characteristic American success story. Always Ochs played his cards to win — never to lose. Practically "broke," because of his extensive operations in Chattanooga, where he had built the "Times" there from a wreck to an outstanding newspaper, he came to New York, bought the "New York Times" on borrowed money, and built it from a wreck to the greatest newspaper in the world.

We cannot harbor defeat at all if we would be successfully happy. We must expect to win out in our plans, and pursue that course every day of our lives. If we are faithful to our ideals, and sincerely satisfy ourselves, to the best of our ability, we need have no regrets.

Michael Fairless said this in her beautiful little book, "The Road-mender": "After all, what do we ask of life, here or indeed hereafter, but leave to serve, to live, to commune with our fellowmen and with ourselves; and from the lap of earth to look up into the face of God?"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Learn To Take It!"

Fairfield Master Farmer Started Selling Milk In 1903; Sold Route Last Year

Times and situations as well as prices have changed, Harry E. Brown, Fairfield master farmer and dairyman, can tell anyone.

When Mr. Brown started out, back in 1903, to sell milk at his farm he received five cents for each quart given by his then herd of six cows.

Since that, the prices have gone up to 18 cents a quart and Brown has gone out of the retail milk business for the most part.

In 1920 he began a route to retail milk in Fairfield. Using a horse and buggy, he found that he could sell milk at nine cents a quart, and secured, as a start, 20 regular customers.

Changed To Truck In 1933

The route grew as more and more people became interested in the then more or less novel idea of having milk delivered daily to the door. The Brown horse and wagon became a familiar sight on the streets of Fairfield as each morning it made its route to deliver the dairy products produced by the herd.

In 1933 the truck replaced the horse and wagon used by the Brown dairy and by 1935 the 20 quarts a day delivered in 1920 had grown to 200 quarts, and the price had increased from nine cents to 14 cents per quart.

The year 1935 was one of expansion for Mr. Brown. That year he extended his routes to Orrtanna and Cashtown.

While deliveries in Fairfield could be made by foot or in sleigh during winter months when the snow drifts were too high for the wagon, that procedure could not be used in delivering to Orrtanna and Cashtown.

Used Hand Car

Roads had not reached perfection in 1935 and the snow plows that usually have the snow taken from the roads from the time the first flake falls these days, were not often seen on the secondary roads in 35.

The winter months made deliveries a little difficult at times. Sometimes the road to Orrtanna was blocked and then Brown's dairy introduced a new method of transporting milk—by hand car. A hand car was secured and placed on the railroad tracks. Loaded with milk it was pumped along the route until it reached Orrtanna. Then deliveries could be made on foot to the doorstep of all customers.

Usually when the Orrtanna road was blocked either by snow or by drifts or other causes, the road to Cashtown was also out of use temporarily. Then the Brown truck would travel down the Fairfield road to Gettysburg and up the Chambersburg pike to Cashtown. It was a roundabout route, but by that method the Brown dairy kept its record of never missing a day.

Sold Routes Last Year

As Harry Brown figured it, the people wanted milk from him and it was his job to see that they got it.

At first the surplus milk produced by the Brown herd went into butter churned at the Brown farm. Later the surplus milk was sent to a creamery.

Last year the Brown's dairy after a quarter century of delivering milk daily closed down its retail delivery operations and the routes in Fairfield, Orrtanna and Cashtown were sold to the Gettysburg Ice and Storage company.

Now all of the milk produced by the Brown herds goes to the creamery although Brown is still a little uneasy about not serving customers, some of whom were purchasers of the Brown herd milk for more than 30 years.

Conscientious and hard-working, the qualities that helped Brown win the master farmer award 10 years ago, he was one of the leaders in the handling of milk in the county.

Had Modern Plant

Anxious always to supply high quality milk as an aid in the health and welfare of his patrons and especially the children, he purchased modern improvements as soon as they were available if it was shown that they could make sure the milk was of the best.

Besides running the dairy and farm, Brown also has had another "long term job." He has been president of the county Agricultural Extension Association for over 18 years.

FIFTY AT KANE FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kane entertained members of their family and friends at a dinner on Sunday at their home at Fairfield.

A total of 50 persons jammed the house. The dinner will probably be the last gathering of such a size ever to be held by the Kanes because the convocation was called in order that it could be held before the family moved from its present large home.

Four huge tables were used to feed the family group. Two turkeys were eaten, together with "all of the creamery is simpler and entails less headaches, Brown still recalls the nearly 40 years of selling milk to retail customers with pleasure. After all there are only a few people to meet when taking milk to a creamery, but there are hundreds to meet while delivering door to door. And people are more interesting, friendlier and better than anything else, Mr. Brown feels.

And what do the people think of the dairyman? Recently he decided that he had been on the Fairfield school board too many years. He campaigned for his opponent. The result? Harry E. Brown was re-named to the school board and re-named president.

Most men when they reach the age of 84 are convinced their working days are behind them and that it is time for someone else to take over the chores that must be done.

Not so with William H. Cullison of near Orrtanna. A patriarch of 84, Mr. Cullison sees no reason why a man of 84 should not be as good as a worker as one of 54, 34 or even 24. To prove his contention the other day he picked 100 bushels of apples at the Glenn Musselman orchards.

One hundred bushels of apples in one day is a good day's work for an octogenarian, and for many younger men as well.

Mr. Cullison has been employed at the Musselman farm during the harvest season for many years during all of which he proved that age has nothing to do with ability to work.

Drain Wet Spots—Use of modern farm machines requires a ground surface that will not let them bog down. The quality of crops will be improved and time saved in operations by draining the wet spots.

Motion pictures of the family group were taken after the dinner. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Kane and children Regina, Teddy and Judy; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kane and son, Dale; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kane and children Margaret, Betty, Lorraine, and Donna Jean; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemler and children Anna Mae, Bernadette, Teresa, Charles Junior and Richard; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McCauslin and children Donald, Patsy and Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Asper and son, Ronnie; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Topper and children Francis, Patsy, Spencer, Dennis, Andrew, Carolyn, Sylvia and Stella; Mrs. Stella Topper, the Rev. Cletus Houck, Andrew Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kimple and Mr. and Mrs. Marlyn Jumper and children, Roger and Marlene.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

MANY INQUIRIES ON ARTIFICIAL BREEDING HERE

Interest in artificial breeding in Adams county's dairies is apparently increasing, Ira Dunmire, assistant county farm agent, revealed today.

During the past week, Dunmire explained, a number of dairymen have been seeking advice from the county agent's office in regard to artificial breeding service.

Most were interested in the artificial insemination because proven bulls are "few and far between," Dunmire explained. "Most are aged and they are invariably high priced. Most proven bulls are about six years of age before there are any completed lactations of their offspring which show how much they have increased or decreased in production in comparison with their dams.

Use Proven Sires

"While a young bull from a good cow and a high quality bull has a much better chance of proving good than an ordinary bull calf, every dairymen knows that you can't expect the pedigree to fill the milk pail of itself. Not all bull or heifer calves inherit the high producing characteristics of their parents," Dunmire added.

Artificial insemination of dairy cattle has made it possible for large numbers of dairy cows to be bred to proven sires, and is also employed to test a number of young bulls with excellent pedigrees on a limited number of cows so that several dairymen share the cost of proving the bulls by having only a few cows bred to them while the remainder are bred artificially. This way the cost of proving a bull is spread over all members using the service, Dunmire pointed out.

Since the average bull usually requires about 25 to 30 bushels of corn per year, about 500 pounds of other grains and about two tons of hay, the same feed might be used to keep another cow and the milk should in most cases more than pay for the breeding fees of the entire herd, he added.

This year about 100,000 cows in the state will be bred artificially and during the past two years between 50 and 60 per cent of the cows thus bred have settled with the first service under all kinds of circumstances, the assistant county agent pointed out.

More Data Available

The progress of the industry in the past few years has been attributed by many leaders in the field to movements such as artificial insemination, Dunmire said, and the service has been of great help particularly to the small breeder and dairymen. While the nearness and convenience of the neighbor's bull regardless of breeding had been the customary breeding factor in the past, the practice has usually resulted in degenerate grades of offspring.

If an association is established in the county the insemination service

Those interested in obtaining more information on the artificial breeding are urged to call the county agent's office.

His report of amounts approved by the commission was supplied to members of the Farm Show committee at its annual fall meeting last week in the Senate caucus room of the capitol building. The Farm Show committee is made up of elected delegates from 45 state-wide agricultural associations.
